

The National LGBT Bar Association announces a Twitter contest for our members!

Participants will tweet their best closing argument in a hypothetical Defense of Marriage Act lawsuit while adhering to the spirit of Twitter—only 144 characters! Entries can be provocative, funny, timely but most of all, brief. The contest is open to all current members of the LGBT Bar.

Winner(s) will receive a free registration to the 2012 Lavender Law Conference and Career Fair, held August 23-25 in Washington, DC. Use the hashtag #LGBTBar to enter. All tweets must be posted by March 12 and we will announce the winner shortly thereafter. So get to work on those closing arguments!
